MILL OWNERS AND STRIKERS

An Effort Made to Bring About a Conference.

A MAYOR ACTS AS A MEDIATOR

Bay State Board of Arbitration Ready and Willing to Act-Neither Side Knows Its Wants-Treasurer Howland Attacked for Not Promptly Re-Answer.

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 22. YOR Brownell has called a conference of the manufac-turers and striking spinners IVII for tomorrow evening.
The strike situation has undergone no material change since yesterday. All the mills remain closed, and both sides seem to be as determined as Secretary Ross of the Spinners' union and Tressurer Howland are today having a conference, at which the date of the reopening of the Howland corpora-tions will be determined. Mr. How-land is being bitterly criticised by the other manufacturers. He is accused of unfair conduct, inasmuch as he was represented at the meeting of treasurers by the agent of his mills, Byron F. Card, and has not carried out the agreement of that meeting.

Messrs. Howland and Card in interviews today answer these attacks. Mr. Card states that Mr. Howland knew nothing of the meeting until long after it was over, that he (Card) attended it at the request of the treasurers, but he had no voice, and that he agreed to post the notices of reductions sub-ject to Howland's action on his return. The latter heard first of the reduction on his return to the city, and on Monday rescinded it.

NEW UNIONS FORMED. The various unions held meetings today. Even the juvenile operatives were active in the matter, and the doffers and backboys are forming a new union. Many of the strikers are spen !-

ing their time in the country black berrying, and others go fishing every day.
At a mass meeting on the common today Secretary Hart bitterly scored the treasurer, Andrew G. Pierce, for his attitude regarding the particulars bill. He said the operatives were treated worse in New Bedford than anywhere else in the state. Another speaker declared that the weavers had the right to go into every mill in the city and cut the cloth off their looms

Boston, Aug. 22.-The state board of arbitration has notified the New Bedford manufacturers and the striking employes that it will gladly undertake to settle their differences, but as yet has not received an answer from either side. Members of the board have visited Fall River and report that the situation there at present is such that but little can be done toward a settlement. Neither side really knows just what it wants, and it will be some days before a definite statement of the demands of both can be made to the

In New Bedford the board believes that the same state of affairs exists. The board cannot take any action in the matter until some notice is received from the contestants.

Supply Station Opened to Feed the Starving at Pullman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—The relief appeal issued by Governor Altgeld was re-ceived by the destitute people of Pull man today with general expression of joy and gratitude for the interest taken by the governor in their behalf. The re-lief committee received some supplies in the morning and the headquarters were opened again with the expectation of getting much money and provisions in response to the proclama-

When the doors of the supply station were opened 400 men were assembled in double rows awaiting their turn to have their baskets filled. One thousand loaves of bread, made from flour sent by the citizens of Allegan, Mich., were distributed. Cash contributions were received which went to make $100 in the treasury for the purchase of meat, to be used in extreme cases. An evening paper is authority for the statement that the Pullman company has recognized the brick makers' union of Pullman and Roseland, and the strike in that branch of the big concern will soon be over. Vice President Wickes refuses to discuss the matter for publication.

ANOTHER BIG HAUL.

Anthony Comstock and His Agents Unearth More Obscene Literature in Brooklyn.

New YORK, Aug. 22 —Anthony Com-stock, agent for the Society for the Pre-vention of Crime, made a big haul of obseene literature and pictures this morning when he arrested Eugene Le Reouf at his home in Brooklyn. The material seized consisted of 2,033 pictures, 500 circulars, 300 books, 500 poems and nine rubber hand stamps. Mr. Comstock took his prisoner at once to the United States court, where the prisoner entered a plea of not guilty to the charge preferred, and was remanded to jail under $2,500 bail for examination on Monday morning next. Mr. Comstock believes that Le Beouf is associated with an extensive gang of dealers in obscene mail matter, who have been trying to flood the country with their prusient wares since the close of the Chicago exposition, whither great quantities of this species of literature and pictures were sent to France. Several of the gang have already been captured by Mr. Comstock. Among them was Harry Miltenupp, at Philadelphia; Frank B. Teall, at Hurleyville, N. Y.; Clarence F. Stratton, at Thompsonville, N. Y., and Charles C. Richardson, at Lancaster, Pa.

Miltenupp was indicted last Monday in Philadelphia at 11 a, m. and an hour later was convicted and sentenced to two years and a half at the Cherry Hill

A REMARKABLE FLOOD OF RHYME

No Less Than Twenty-three Poetical Majority Are Given-Various Dialects and Metres Are Employed to Produce the Best Effects-Results Whitcomb Riley.

Washington, Aug. 22.

MOST remarkable contribution to the tariff literature appears in the Congressional Record today.
It is a speech by Representative Marriot Brosius, of Pennsylvania, printed under the general list given in the rule by which the house of representatives last week concurred in the senate amendment to the bill. The key note of the production is given in the quotation from Fletcher, with which the matter is introduced: "Let me write the ballads of a nation and I care not who makes their laws." After a brief dissertation in the usual manner upon Democratic deficiencies, Mr. Brosins says: "I shall not et before our unregenerate brethren their sins of omission and commission in the searlet livery of their real turpitude, but I shall let the matters be established by witnesses of well approved character for tenderness and mercy. I shall summon the muses, who each in her own peculiar field, yet all with uniform consent and true poetic order, have volunteered to transmit the manifold delinquiacies which shall engage their pens to coming generations on wings of immortal song Beginning then with the Quatrain from the "Bigelow papers."

That a merciful providence fashioned hollow O'purpose that we might our principles swallow.

The belly can hold a great many of them, it can, And bring them up ready for use like a pelican. TWENTY-THREE SONGS. Mr. Brosius indulged in no less than twenty-eight rhyming, if not poetical, descriptions of the shortcomings of the of well known airs or lines, "The Old Oaken Bucket" being the pattern for a few of them, and they are dressed in German, Irish and street gamin dia lects. The acrostic is also invoked, the more satisfactorily to express the orator's opinion of the attitude of the Democratic administration toward the policy of protection. The last effusion has a "stair case" refrain, after the fashion of James Whitcomb Riley. The "poem" gives Mr. Brosius views of the results of the "big storm" next November and closes with the words:

Now the south is in the saddle and the Bourbons rule the roost, With their outfit of free traders, cranks and Coxeyites to boost, As they strive to topple over thrift's fair temple in a day, And sit on northern progress in the true old southern way. But the voters will be heard from ere this devil's work is done

With an avalanche of ballots that will startle Washington.
November's blasts will chill their souls, from congressmen to bums, And they'll hustle for their cellars Big

PULLMAN INQUIRY.

Testimony Favorable to the Car-Building Company. CHICAGO, Aug. 22 -Several of the witnesses examined by the strike com-mission today gave testimony more favorable to the Pullman company than that which had previously been heard. Frank Glover, a real estate agent, said he considered the Pullman bouses at $18 and $20 a month really cheaper than $12 a month houses in surrounding towns. The Pullman dwellings were well equipped and finely located, he said, and rents were not, in his opinion, too high. In reply to a query of Commissioner Wright, Mr. Glover denied that he was in any way connected with the Pullman com-

Paul E. Herms, a newsdealer, who formerly worked in the Pullman shops, said he did not place much faith in the complaints of the men. Their trouble, he thought, was largely due to a fond-ness for beer. All the saloonkeepers in the surrounding towns had grown rich Mr. Herms declared, and a large number of Kensington beer wagons were supported by the Pullman em-playes. Of real estate values he knew little, but did not believe the Pullman rents were ususually high.

T. P. Johnson, a Puliman furniture dealer, testified that storeroom rents in the town had been cut, though no reduction had been made in the resiience rentals.

He said: "The information I have gained of the condition of the Se National bank belongs to the department and I hesitate to talk about it until after I have made my report. I am content in expressing the belief that the bank will resume business soon. The bank people are all right, and I know of no cause for slarm. I cannot say whether other arrests will follow. There is not a doubt but that Bank Examiner Miller took his own life."

A BRIEF SESSION.

The Senate Has Much Difficulty Securing a Quorum and Adjourns Early.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.-The session of the senate today lasted only an hour and three quarters, most of that time being spent in waiting for the appearance of a quorum. The lack of that article had been called to the attention of the vice president soon after the hour of meeting and when the roll of senators called it was found that only thirty-two had responded. The sergeant at arms was thereupon directed to request the attendance of absent senators, and after waiting more than an hour it was reported by the clerk to vice president and by the vice president to the senate that forty-three senators, exactly a quorum, had an-ty-one were Democrats, ten Republicans and two Populists. Apparently satisfied with the result of the attempt to compel senators to attend to their public duties, and having telegraphed to the absentees within reach of Washington to be in the senate chamber tomorrow, the leaders on the Democratic side resolved upon proceeding to the consideration of executive business, and after the briefest of executive sessions the senate adjourned until tomorrow.

ALLOWED A RATTLER TO BITE.

Professor Beyer's Hazardous Experiment

in Behalf of Science. New ORLEANS, Aug. 22 -Professor George Beyer, curator of Tulane University museum in this city, on Mon-day allowed himself to be bitten by a rattler in order to determine if a person can be inoculated and rendered proof against the venom of serpents. From his large collection of snakes be selected a young rattler that had been caught a few days ago. He teased the snake until it was angry, then held out his hand in such a position that the rattler struck his little finger. The professor did not use any antidote, and awaited developments. In the course of a few hours the finger became swollen to twice its normal size. The professor said that during the week he would allow himself to be bitten again. He does not think the bite will prove fatal because a young snake cannot emit as much poisen as an old one. The sensation was very much like the sting of a bee, but the pain was intense. Professor Beyer's object in experimenting is to prove that by the gradual absorption of a snake's vemon the system will become inoculated, and a person in that condition can be bitten without the result proving fatal. Professor Beyer thinks his experiment will be successful.
